

Lone Star Region D³ A Day at the Races

You've heard of AX and DE, now join your fellow LSR members for this year's D³ event – Drive to the LSR PCA Club Races at TWS, Display your Porsche at the Track, and Dine in Brenham before calling it a day.

There is a Lone Star Region PCA Club Race coming up over the weekend of March 19 – 21st at Texas World Speedway, and what better way to participate (as a spectator) than to drive up with a few of your closest friends from the Lone Star Region on Saturday, March 20th.

We will meet at 9 am at Porsche of North Houston, 18111 North Freeway (south) for a 9:30 am departure for the Texas World Speedway via some of the back roads between Conroe and Navasota.

When we arrive at the track, you will have an opportunity to:

- Do some low speed parade laps on the track over the same course being used for the races (optional, of course)
- Have a trackside lunch
- Get a personal tour of the track facilities
- Watch the afternoon races up close and personal.

In the middle of all this, we will have special parking for an informal “display concours” for those wishing to take part – no experience necessary; prizes will be awarded.

About 5 pm we will depart (more back roads driving) for Volare's Italian Restaurant in Brenham for dinner. This will put us about 90 miles from Houston straight down 290 for the drive home.

If you are interested, e-mail Jim Heimer at lsrweb@earthlink.net with your name and the names of any guests (or family) accompanying you. Indicate if you will be departing from Porsche of North Houston (so we can buy you a donut) or driving up on your own (arrive at the track by 11:30 am), and if you will have dinner with the group (so we can make reservations).
